

product design award 2009
for bfs plug IV
synthesis in technique and design

The "low profile plug" for bayonet connection is the latest product of batterie füllungs systeme. It contains high technical precision in the smallest space to top-up batteries with water automatically. This is in line with our well-known commitment to safety and reliability. Expert jurors of the International Forum Design gave an award to the bfs plug for innovative, precise and continuous development as well as optimum performance. We are proud to gain the iF seal of quality. bfs is providing the battery market with a new product which is economical and meets today's ecological requirements. For nearly 30 years bfs has been world market leader in battery filling systems.

1980

1994

2008

